

TARGET #3

(This was a response given to a video I posted entitled,
'Targets, Please Use Discretion!')

I really don't care at this point. I am too pissed off. I am going to call out all the demonic mf'rs. They have already "targeted" one of my loved ones because they are such demons. Now I have to fight them off all over again. They are so sucky and evil. I just can't stand it. They attack the brains of everyone I love and care about. They damn don't care, so I don't care. I am not going to allow them to attack my brain anymore.

I am not going to allow them to attack other peoples' brains anymore. I know now what they do. May God forgive them for they know not what they do. I'm too irritated to deal with it much longer because there is not much time left.
